REMARKS

Proof coins, in all metals, were first struck at the mint for collectors in 1858. They have a mirror-like surface unlike the regular issues. All such pieces were originally sold at a premium. The U. S. mint abolished this practice in 1915.

The branch mints mentioned in this list are S—San Francisco, and D—Denver. The mint marks are found as follows:

On Indian head cents—under the wreath.

On Lincoln cents—under the date.

On Buffalo nickels—under FIVE CENTS.

The letter L on hair ribbon on 1864 bronze cents is the initial of the engraver—Longacre.

The initials V.D.B. on the Lincoln Cents of 1909 are for Victor D. Brenner, the designer. So much criticism was occasioned that these initials were omitted after a considerable quantity had been coined.

REMARKS

Proofs are coins specially struck for collectors on polished planchets and have a mirror-like surface. All such pieces were originally sold at a premium. The U. S. mint abolished this practice in 1915.

The branch mints mentioned in this list are S—San Francisco and D—Denver. The mint marks are found as follows —

On Indian head cents—under the wreath.

On Lincoln cents—under the date.

On Buffalo nickels—under FIVE CENTS.

The letter L on hair ribbon on 1864 bronze cents is the initial of the engraver—Longacre.

The initials V.D.B. on the Lincoln Cents of 1909 are for Victor D. Brenner, the designer. So much criticism was occasioned that these initials were omitted after a considerable quantity had been coined.

While we have not listed any of the United States coins larger than the half dimes we can supply a large number of dates and varieties of all denominations up to the Twenty Dollar piece.

FOREWORD.

Our present forms of Paper Money are $1.00, $2.00, $5.00, $10.00, $20.00, $50.00, $100.00, $500.00, $1000.00 and $10,000.00 bills, consisting of Gold Certificates, Silver Certificates, United States Notes, National Bank Notes and Federal Reserve Bank Notes. This Paper Money is engraved and printed by the United States Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Washington, D. C., and distributed through the Federal Reserve Banks to the different National Banks and State Banks.

The Civil War brought on by the bombardment of Fort Sumter, necessitated the raising of a large Army in order to suppress the Southern Rebellion. Therefore, the United States Treasury issued Demand Notes, Fractional Currency and Legal Tender Notes,—also established the National Banking System in order to obtain funds for carrying on the War.

Before 1865, there were notes in circulation as money, issued by Banks chartered by the different States, known as State Bank Notes. When any of these Banks failed, they were said to have "broken", and in that case, the notes often proved to be worthless because the Bank could not redeem them with gold or silver coin, on account of having lost all their resources through excessive loans which could not be collected, or due to defalcation of officers, fraudulent management and other reasons.

The old State Bank Notes have received the general designation of Broken Bank Notes, but in many cases this is a wrong designation, as many of these Banks liquidated their affairs and paid all the notes presented—in gold or silver coin. Of course, the notes that had not been presented for payment to the Bank became worthless as money after the Bank's business had been fully liquidated. However, they are really State Bank Notes—as the notes were issued by Banks chartered by the different State Legislatures.

State Bank Notes were issued in various denominations. The Act of the Legislature of Pennsylvania of March 14th, 1814 provided that no Bank should issue any notes of a lower denomination than $5.00. Some of the other States enacted similar laws at different times. The Banks of the State of South Carolina were under the same restrictions, with the exception of the Bank of the State of South Carolina—which was permitted to issue notes of any denomination the Directors thought necessary. State Bank Notes of the following denominations have been noted: One Ninetieth of a Dollar, Three Ninetieths of a Dollar, 1c, 5c, 6c, 6¼c, 10c, 12½c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 37½c, 50c, 75c, 87½c, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2.00, $2.50, $3.00, $3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $9.00, $10.00, $11.00, $12.00, $13.00, $14.00, $15.00, $20.00, $25.00, $30.00, $35.00, $40.00, $50.00, $100.00, $200.00, $300.00, $400.00, $500.00, $1,000.00, $2,000.00, $3,000.00, $5,000.00, $10,000.00.

Paper Money was also issued by States, Cities, Towns, Counties, Railroad Companies, Bridge Companies, Canal Companies, Whaling Companies,

Merchants, Farmers, Storekeepers and other tradesmen. These Issues were generally called "shinplasters", and were usually in fractional parts of a dollar. They often were issued in the form of a check, mentioning some Bank at which they were payable when presented in sums of one or more dollars. The following denominations have been recorded: 1c, 2c, 3c, 4c, 5c, 6c, $6\frac{1}{4}$c, 7c, 8c, 9c, 10c, $12\frac{1}{2}$c, 15c, 20c, 25c, 30c, $33\frac{1}{3}$c, 35c, $37\frac{1}{2}$c, 40c, 50c, 60c, 75c, 90c, $1, $2, $2\frac{1}{2}$, $3, $4, $4\frac{1}{2}$, $5, $6, $7, $10, $20, $50, $100, $500.

Confederate Currency was issued by the Confederate States of America during the War of the Rebellion. Bradbeer lists five hundred and seventy-nine varieties.

The Continental Congress, at different times, recommended the Colonies to lay taxes for the benefit of the Treasury, and in the expectation of funds to be derived therefrom, issued Continental Currency. The first Continental Currency was issued in 1775. In 1780 this Currency ceased to circulate in the Northern States. In the end it depreciated to 1000 to 1, and then the circulation ceased entirely. Denominations were issued as follows: $1/6, $\frac{1}{3}$, $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{2}{3}$, $1.00, $2.00, $3.00, $4.00, $5.00, $6.00, $7.00, $8.00, $20.00, $30.00, $35.00, $40.00, $45.00, $50.00, $55.00, $60.00, $65.00, $70.00, $80.00.

Before and during the Revolutionary War, Currency was issued to some extent by each one of the thirteen Original Colonies. The denominations were in Pounds, Shillings and Pence. Maryland was the first State to use Currency in Dollar Denominations.

In 1733 and 1739, specie banks were organized. The bills of these banks were hoarded, and were not usually circulated.

There are many interesting points to observe on all the aforementioned Bills. For instance: Title of Bank or Issuer; Location; Denomination, Serial Letter, Number, Date, Signatures, Vignettes; The Engraving Company, Printing Company, Lithographers, Etc.

The Vignettes appearing on the old State Bank Notes were done by the best Artists of the Period and are genuine works of art. Early views of American Life, Portraits of Famous Men and other ornamentations adorn these old notes.

Collectors soon realize the importance of preserving these old bills as a necessary link in joining the Past to the Present. Real Collectors build up a collection of Paper Money, not with the idea of the dollar value only, but derive real joy in examining the bills, noticing the engraving, the views, the date, signatures, odd numbers and anything unusual, as well as the added pleasure of securing new varieties occasionally.

Paper Money enters into the majority of our transactions in securing the necessities and luxuries of our everyday life. Naturally each and every one should find this subject an interesting study.
